As well as offering security for joints, the AeroBan™ Elastic Adhesive Bandage is also perfect for a wide range of people thanks to its hypo-allergenic qualities. This offers greater options for first aid kits, especially where a more diverse group of people have use of the consumables. The AeroBan™ Elastic Adhesive Bandage is a lightweight strapping bandage that can be used for securing ankle, knee, hand and wrist joints. The bandage is more commonly used by sports physios to treat and prevent sprained ankles. Its high-quality design ensures optimal comfort against the skin allowing it to conform easily to body contours. The AeroBan™ Elastic Adhesive Bandage also unrolls smoothly for ease of use. Suitable for supporting the ankle whilst wearing shoes, its lightweight components ensure that footwear can comfortably cover the foot without tightness.
